

Tackle Travel Related Immigration Challenges with Topia Compass and Newland Chase, a wholly-owned subsidiary of CIBT

Companies who deploy talent across borders via business travel must maintain diligence to comply with immigration-related regulations. Technology-driven compliance programs enable organizations to automate the monitoring of upcoming and ongoing employee movement for potential immigration flags and seamlessly integrate and initiate downstream immigration services.

Topia Compass helps address immigration concerns with two key use cases: Pre-travel Assessments and Schengen Compliance.

Pre-Travel Assessments

Leverage technology to screen all upcoming travel for potential immigration needs. Topia Compass integrates with your travel and booking systems to automatically identify upcoming travel that may require additional documentation for regulatory compliance. Once identified Topia notifies employees to complete a pre-travel assessment powered by leading business visitor and immigration logic from our partner Newland Chase and if necessary flags the travel for review by HR teams and/or automatically initiates downstream services depending on your configured policies and rules.

Schengen Compliance

As a result of Brexit, European travel has increased in complexity, and employees who were used to freely moving throughout the continent may be subject to new regulations. Leverage Topia Compass to track travel days across Schengen area countries to ensure UK and EU-based employees stay compliant with travel post-Brexit. It also supports non-EU global organizations with remote work and travel in the Schengen area via automated alerts, dashboards and reporting.
